

Play with colours and shapes

7 fun and creative activities that strengthen fine motor skills and number and colour recognition.

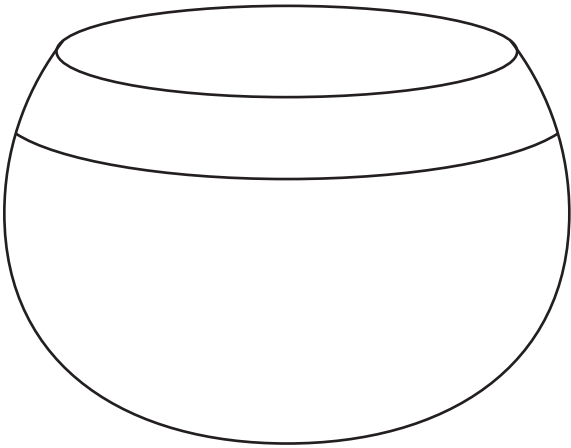

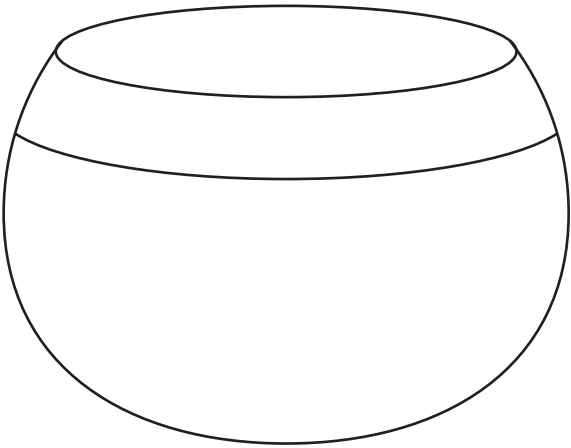

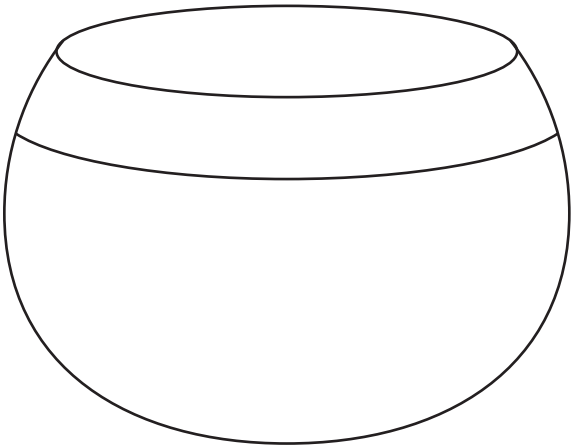

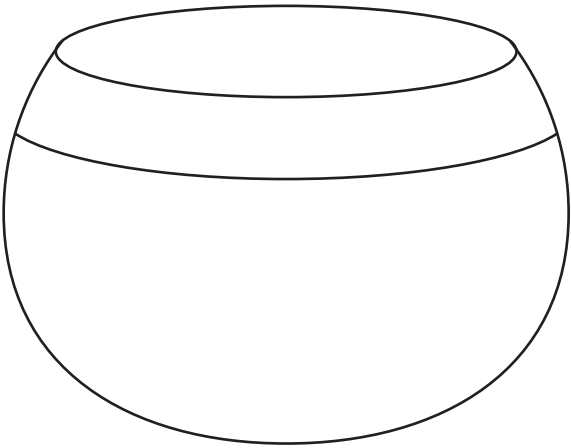

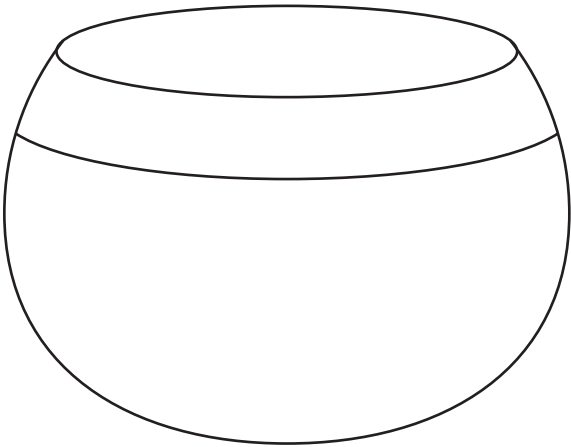

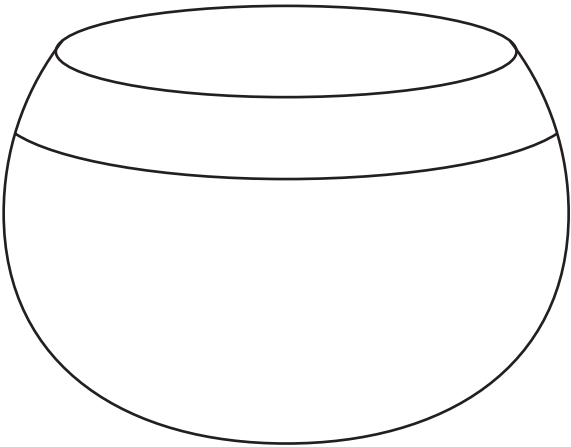

Catch and sort the colourful fish

In this activity, you catch the fish and sort them by colour.

A playful way to strengthen colour recognition, concentration and fine motor skills, while the child also practises categorising.

Give the caterpillar the right colours

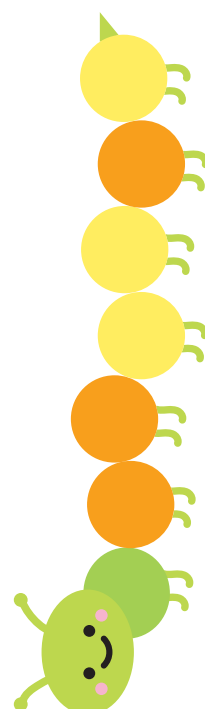

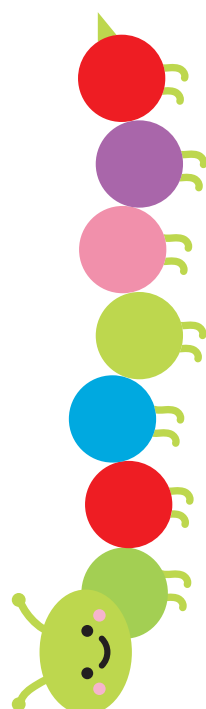

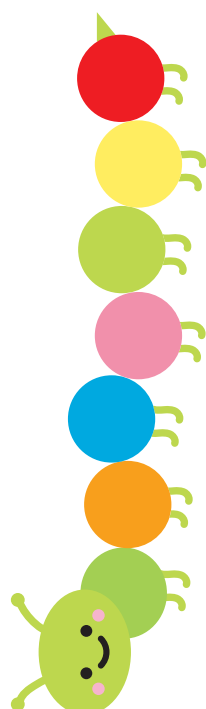

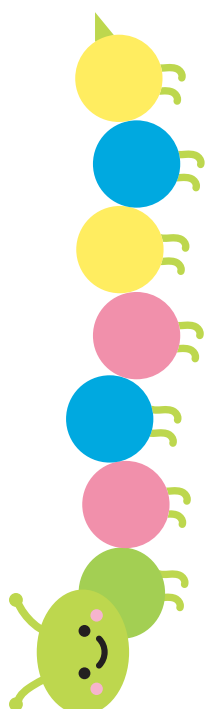

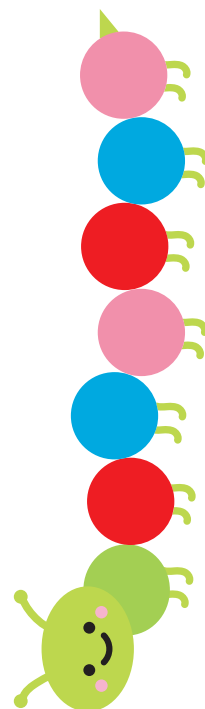

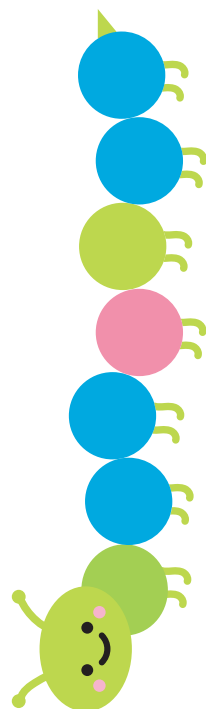

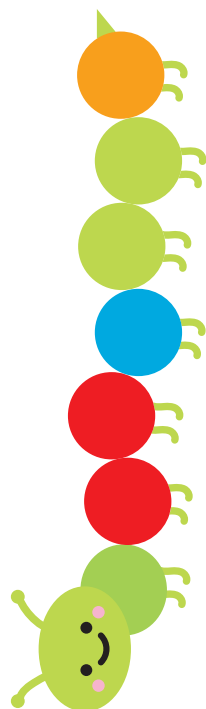

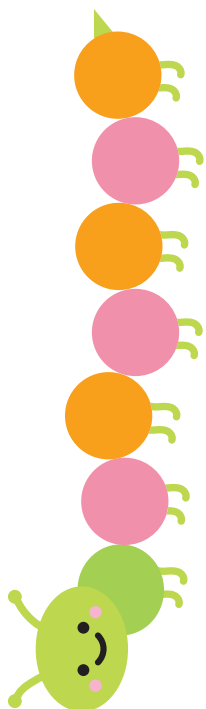

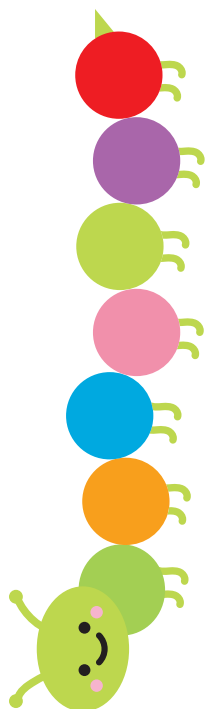

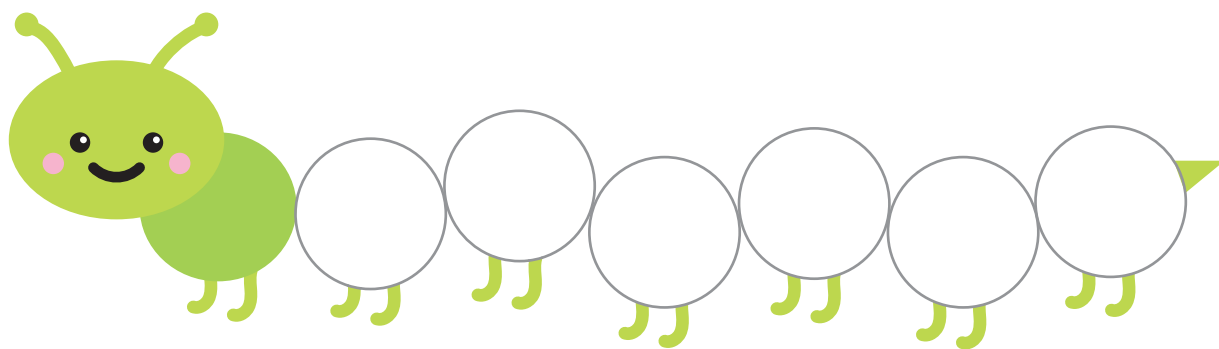

Help the caterpillar get the right colours on its body.
The child practises colour recognition and precision.

You can increase the level of difficulty by giving the child time to look at the card and then turning it over. Now the child must remember both colours and order.
